“Benaras is older than history, older than tradition, older even than legend and looks twice as old as all of them put together”

- MARK TWAIN

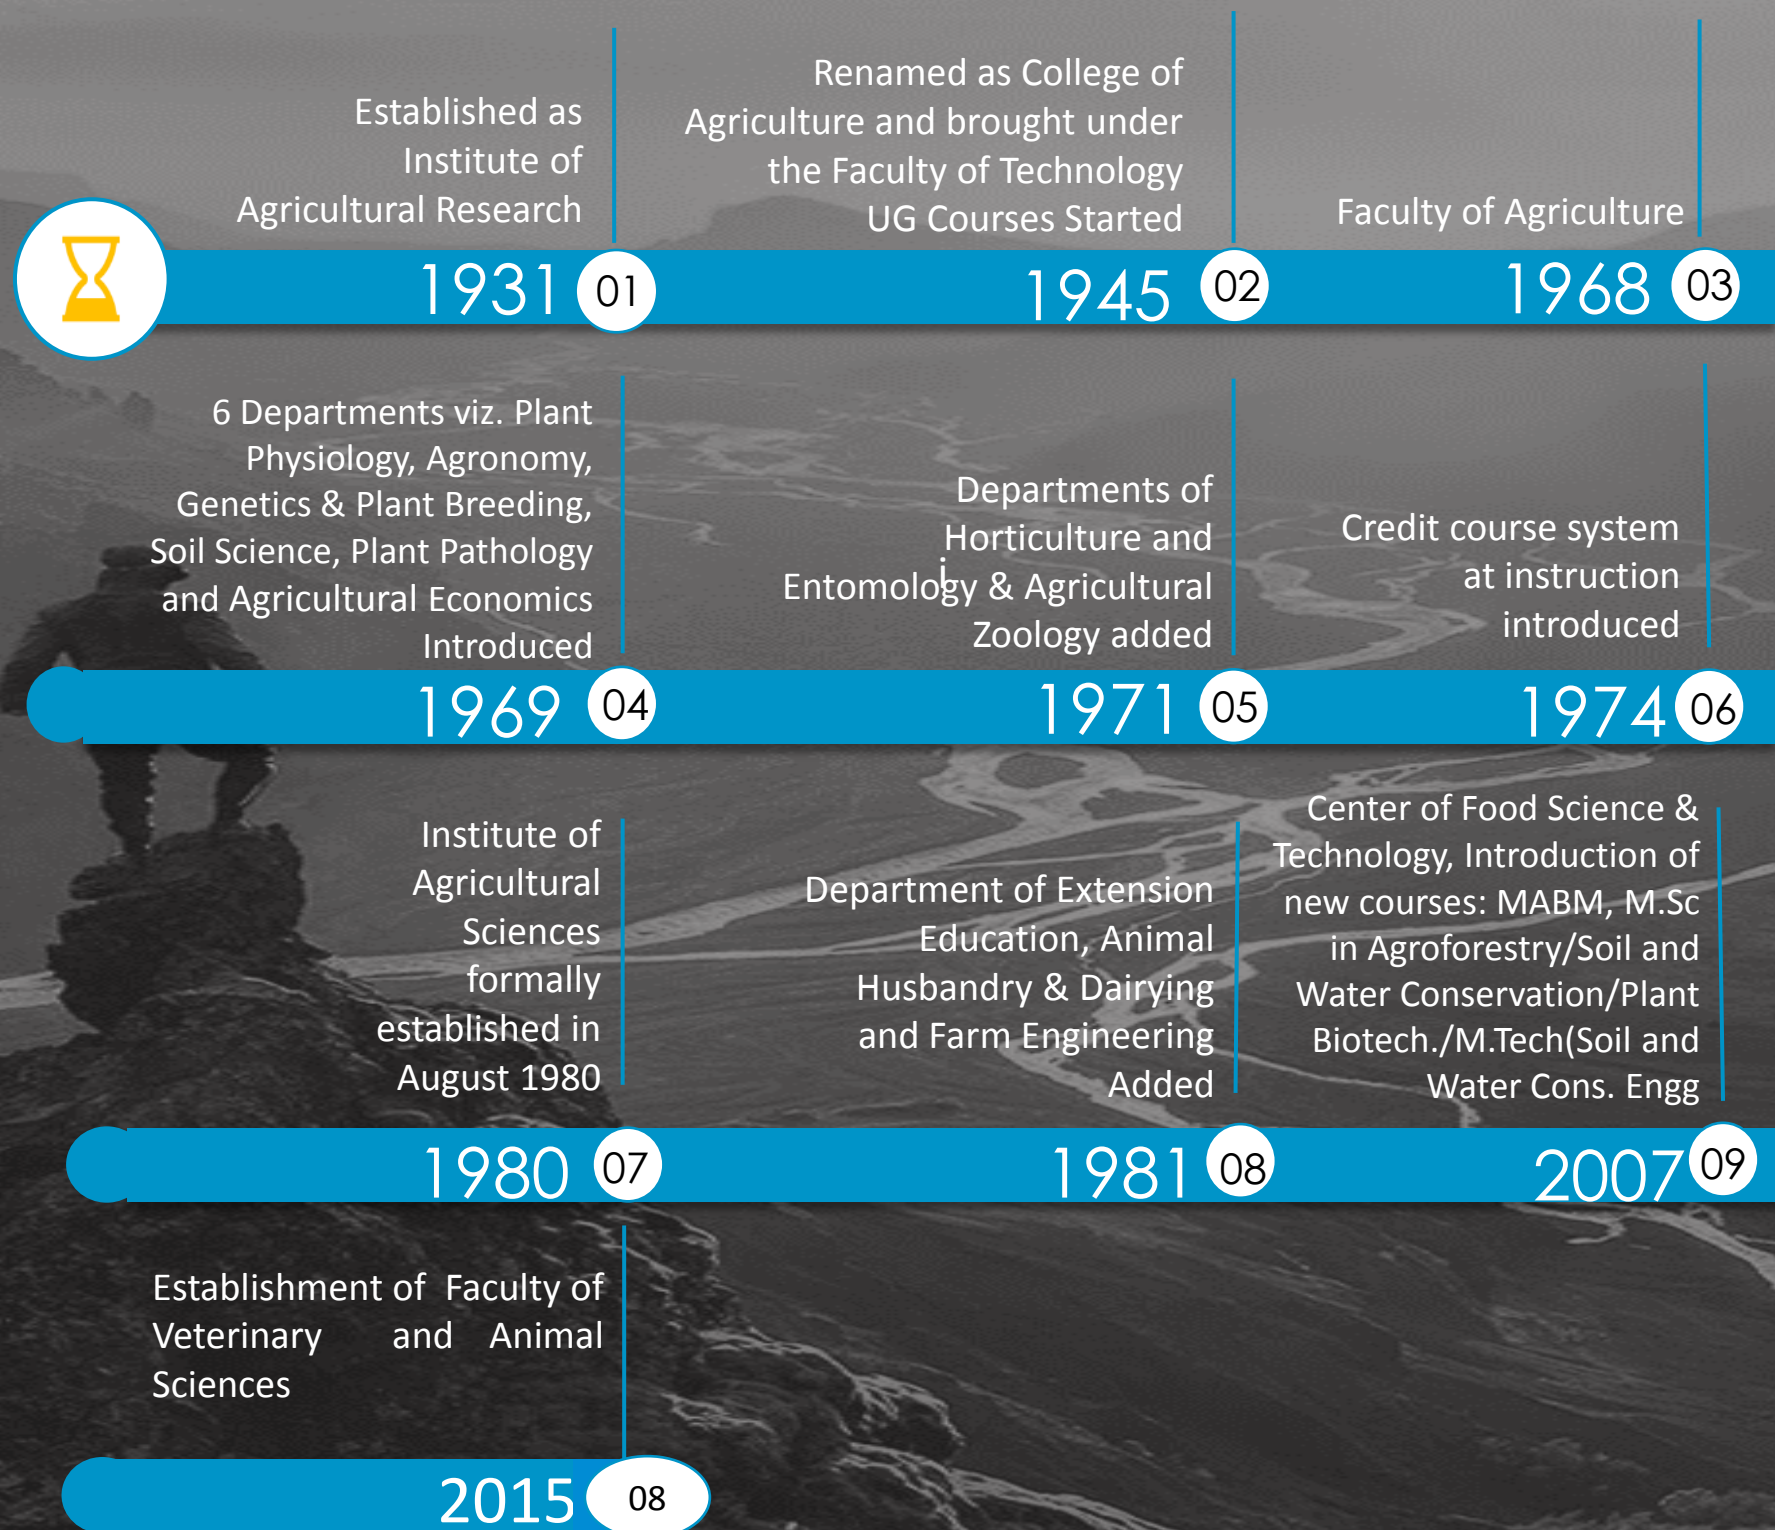

Varanasi, or Benaras (also known as Kashi) is one of the oldest living cities in the world. Varanasi's Prominence in Hindu mythology is virtually unrevealed. A major religious hub in India, it is the holiest of the seven sacred cities (Sapta Puri) in Hinduism and Jainism, and played an important role in the development of Buddhism.

Varanasi has been a cultural center of North India for several thousand years, and is closely associated with the Ganges. Hindus believe that death in the city will bring salvation, making it a major center for pilgrimage. The city is known worldwide for its Ghats, embankments made in steps of stone slabs along the river bank where pilgrims perform ritual ablutions.

INTERNATIONAL COLLABORATION

Our research collaborations are with ICRISAT, CIMMYT, IFPRI, IRRI and various other Universities of USA, UK, Australia and Denmark.

The "Agricultural Innovation Partnership" program supported by United States Agency for International Development (USAID) was launched in Banaras Hindu University. The program, a joint venture of USAID, BHU and Cornell University concluded recently and was highly successful.

Further BHU has signed numerous MOU with various international universities, like - Universities of Illinois, Antwerp, Sydney, Mainz, Gerona, California, Georgia, Ohio State, Tuskegee, Copenhagen, Wageningen University, Karlstad University, UN Mandated University. The university is also conjoint with various private institutions such as - John Deere, TATA chemicals Ltd., and Sathguru Management Consultants facilitating joint R & D programs to create the Indo-US Consortium for Agriculture (IUSCA).

The IUSCA extended support in updating the curriculum of BHU and other SAU's to keep pace with international agricultural education, improve the extension expertise to provide support in management and transfer of agri-technology to Indian farmers as they move from subsistence farming to a more market driven economy.

TRAINING and SUMMER INTERNSHIP 2017-18 HIGHLIGHTS

At Institute of Agricultural Sciences we believe that for the overall development of an individual, both in-situ as well as ex-situ training is essential.

To improve upon their skills and give them exposure to new research, technologies and functioning of various institutions, we work in collaboration with various agencies/research institutes/private firms so that we can offer our students an edge over the rest of Agri-graduates/postgraduates when it comes to practical knowledge and work experience.

It also helps expanding the horizon of our students and thus they are not limited only up to traditional agricultural knowledge but also have knowledge in other fields such as fisheries, forestry, plantation cropping, etc. There are several research projects running at BHU being supported by ICAR, UGC, CSIR, UPICAR, CST, NABARD, World Bank and other national and international agencies to which students gets exposure from time to time.
